

Major Project Support Application: Part B

Each student project leader completes this part

This support helps provide students with resources to execute a significant creative research project. Collaborative and multi-disciplinary projects are prioritized. In close consultation with one or more faculty advisors and/or Lyons Lab staff, students or teams of students will work to develop the scope, timeline, needs of each project. Different kinds of projects will require different resources. Lab staff is available to work with students on the development of their proposals.

QUALIFICATIONS/ELIGIBILITY

Students are eligible to apply for major project support if they meet any of the following criteria.

- At least one project leader has received a seed grant or creative coaching from the lab and successfully demonstrated both its impact and the student's commitment to rigorous creative research in a written report.
- An arts major or minor working directly with a faculty advisor on a significant academic project.

Students are eligible to apply for a Lyons Lab independent study (for academic credit) for major projects. A student can receive a maximum of eight Lyons Arts Lab credits during their Colby career.
